VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN RIGHTS IN INDIA.

SAKEENA HASSAN

(M.PHIL, B.ED AND M.ED),
PHD RESEARCH SCHOLAR,
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE,
& CONTRACTUAL LECTURER,
DEPARTMENT OF LAW,
UNIVERSITY OF KASHMIR.

ABSTRACT
The topic highlights the important position that women occupy in the social structure but in spite of this she is subjected to many atrocities by the male counterpart. Although she tries to perform all her roles (daughter, sister, mother and wife) efficiently but still she face violation of her rights at every step of her life. Female infanticide, dowry death, sexual harassment, domestic violence etc. are the kinds of violence women face in the era of globalisation. Women though are entitled to equal constitutional and legal rights do not enjoy them because of their ignorance, age old superstition, complex customs and discrimination in male dominant society.

KEY WORDS: violence, women rights in India.

References:
Books
UNESCO Report on Violence Against women in India and Korea 1993