BUILDING LEARNING COMMUNITY IN EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE: A STUDY OF DIALOGUE METHOD OF PAPER PRESENTATION

DR. ANSHU MATHUR

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS, NOIDA INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY, NOIDA, (UP).

ABSTRACT
The transformation of the higher education system through education desires overall change and overcome the fragmentation, inequality and inefficiency of the past. Authorities has been put emphasis on alliances of knowledge, skills, and experiences through conferences, seminars workshops etc. to obtain and promote educational escalation.

This paper addresses the concept of “Dialogue in conference” as a new method of paper presentation to help developing learning communities. Dialogue that we are discussing is being propagated by Dr. B.K.Passi, (Patron of All India Association of Educational Research) through seminars and workshops. This method is adopted from David Bohm’s model.

KEY WORDS: Learning Community, Dialogue and Educational Conference.

References
Defining Learning Communities

Margaret Wheatley, 1992, We Can Be Wise Only Together Preface for The World Café: Shaping Our Futures Through Conversations That Matter Margaret Wheatley ©2005

Parrish, P. E. (in press). Why we don't talk about the aesthetics of instruction (and why we should). Educational Technology, special issue on cultural studies, edited by Ellen Rose.

Satu Manabu, (2008), Philosophy on the restoration of schools in Japan: The principles and activity system of the Learning Community- Journal of all India association for educational research,Vol.20,No.3&4
• Weisbord, M R & Janoff, S (1995) - Future Search: an action guide to finding common ground in organizations and communities